Marley New Zealand Ltd, RX Plastics Ltd & Dynex Extrusions Ltd are part of the Aliaxis group, a privately owned business based in Belgium and active around the world.

Our companies provide innovative, leading industry solutions that anticipates the rapidly evolving needs of all our customers. We manufacture and distribute a diverse range of PVC and Polyethylene products including extruded pipes, injection moulded fittings, rotational moulded tanks, exterior cladding products and custom compounds for the building industry. We have an ongoing commitment to product quality and customer service and prioritise building long-term relationships and exceeding customer expectations in the building and construction, rainwater, civil, cable management and rural market segments. Our Aliaxis NZ companies are committed to:

- Producing and distributing products that comply with all internal, external standards, and regulatory requirements.
- Providing customers with high quality products and services which meet their requirements and are fit for purpose.
- Supporting compliance of the certified products with the appropriate Standards.
- Operating the business to best practice required under the ISO 9001:2015 Quality Management Systems.
- Promoting a culture of continuous improvement in quality through a systematic evaluation process, internal controls, and business objectives. We will monitor and report our performance against those objectives on an annual basis through the management review process.
- Promoting the quality management systems and ensuring implementation is achieved by internal auditing, management review, corrective, and preventive action.
- Running staff training and induction programmes on their quality responsibilities within the systems used within our businesses.

Executive and senior management will sustain this commitment through customer focus by maintaining a quality management system that aligns with the annual strategic business plan through objectives in all business processes by reviewing product or service risk, technical developments, scientific advancements, environmental impact, and community expectations.
